

Banquet Chef – Job Offer

We are looking for an eager Banquet Chef to join the Millennium Gardens' Team. S/He must be experienced and prepared for a high-volume banquet environment. The ideal candidate will be responsible for prepping and cooking for weekly Events in addition to being responsible for the following: smooth operation of the kitchen and preparation of meals from prix-fix menus; ensuring food quality and presentation meets fine dining standards; ordering and controlling stock; corresponding with suppliers. Of course, we value creativity so the position does also entail the following: assisting the Chef de Cuisine with menu creation, budget control and development of new ideas. This role represents a fantastic opportunity for an ambitious and career-focused chef to take the next step and become part of a company renowned for quality menus and exceptional standards.

This position requires:

- Preparation and production of all meals, food quality and presentation
- Compliance with all safety and sanitation standards and regulations,
- Cost controls and overall profitability
- Create and implement menu selections for special banquet themes and events based on current food trends and regional tastes in partnership with the existing Chef and President
- Ensure compliance with federal, provincial, local and company health, safety, sanitation and alcohol awareness standards
- It is the responsibility of the Banquet Chef to prepare foods for service according to assignment.
- Food preparation, including prep work leading up to Event Date and all necessary cooking on the Day-of and during Event
- Maintain clean and sanitary food preparation and storage areas at all times in accordance with provincial requirements and codes.
- Conduct the daily operations of the kitchen, while ensuring the highest standards and quality of produce is being consistently delivered
- Order and stock control
- Assist with purchasing
- Maintain strict health and safety and food hygiene standards

If you are interested in this position please contact:

PATRICIA GRANT
EVENTS & SALES MANAGER
905.455.5335 Ext. 100